WALKTHROUGH

Stepping into the roomy cockpit, numerous rod holders line the gunnels and flybridge super structure, excellent for trolling multiple rods. The sole underfoot is solid. The flybridge is accessed by a stainless ladder integrated into the flybridge superstructure on the port side. The flybridge is roomy, has excellent view in all directions and has seating forward of the helm. Moving forward from the cockpit, hinged engine covers port and starboard, offering easy and instant access. Entering the salon door forward of the engine covers there is a dinette to starboard and enclosed head to port. Forward of the head is the galley. The forward V berth is accessed via a centerline companionway for ward of the galley and dinette. Although dated, the interior of this vessel is in good condition.
