OVERVIEW

The ILIAD Catamarans 53F is offered for sale—a premium motor catamaran for long-range cruising from Australian builder ILIAD Catamarans, known for reliable composite hulls, fuel efficiency, and spacious accommodation. The model suits long-distance travel, comfortable charter, and living afloat. The ILIAD Catamarans 53F is a strong option for families on extended cruises, owners planning self-sufficient voyages, and charter operators running high-comfort routes. Stability, range, and a clear layout make it well suited to exploring remote areas.

Choosing an ILIAD Catamarans 53F

Our broker helps find the best ILIAD Catamarans 53F on the used market, carries out a full technical inspection, arranges sea trials, checks service history, negotiates price, and supports the transaction legally.

Features of the 53F Model

The ILIAD Catamarans 53F is a motor catamaran for long-range cruising and a full expedition yacht for autonomous sailing in varied conditions.

The hull is composite for strength and lower weight. The flybridge improves visibility and adds a second lounging area. Two decks and a hardtop give space and shelter. The standard layout has 4 cabins, ideal for a family or small group.

The 53F has been in production since 2020 and is still built. New and high-quality used units are available. It is a core model in the range, balancing autonomy and comfort.

Build features modern tech: course stabilisation, efficient engines, and integrated navigation and control. The yard focuses on sound insulation and fuel economy.

Popular alternatives: Lagoon Sixty 5 - larger sailing catamaran; FOUNTAINE PAJOT SAMANA 59 - charter-focused, less autonomous; Aquila Power Catamarans Power Catamaran - less suited to long passages; SILENT YACHTS 62 3-Deck - electric drive, higher cost; OUTREMER 55 - sailing catamaran, different concept.

The ILIAD Catamarans 53F leads these alternatives in range, seakeeping, interior space, and suitability for long-term autonomous use.

Technical Specifications of the ILIAD Catamarans 53F Model

The ILIAD Catamarans 53F ranks among the leading motor catamarans for cruising. The composite hull keeps weight down and strength up; the shape is tuned for efficient passage-making.

Power can be tailored to the owner—diesel options with low consumption are available. Stabilisation adds comfort at anchor and underway. Fuel and water capacity support long legs.
