Selecting a 45 Express Sportfish

Opt for the 45 Express Sportfish when you want a boat that accelerates quickly to tournament grounds, is simple to maintain, and keeps the working deck clear for fishing. Capable of cruising around 30 knots and reaching about 40 knots at top end, it gets you to prime grounds fast. The single-head arrangement, broad beam, and functional tankage make it equally useful as a purpose-built sportfisher or a rapid, comfortable dayboat.

Owner Experience Review

Owners typically deploy the 45 Express Sportfish from Hatteras for offshore tournaments and serious fishing, where the roomy cockpit, fish-handling fittings, livewell arrangements, and rocket launcher prove invaluable. The elevated helm with Stidd seats and an L-shaped settee provides excellent sightlines over the spread, while mezzanine seating offers comfortable crew rest between bites. Many proprietors also use the boat as a family cruiser: the two-cabin, one-head interior with an island master berth and guest berths supplies practical storage and generous natural light. The downbelow L-shaped galley, finished with a granite-style surface, includes a refrigerator/ice-maker and a convection microwave, though several owners mention the dinette table is relatively compact. On the water, the Cat Three60 Joystick Control System is frequently praised for delivering impressively accurate slow-speed handling, easing docking and stern control. Reviewers point to the Cabo-derived hull form with dual chines and tunnels for a compliant, stable ride and straight tracking; sea-trial reports with twin Cat C18 engines note roughly a 32-knot cruise at about 1800 rpm and full-throttle speeds in the 40–42 knot range. Across speeds the vessel is often described as quietly insulated from wave noise, with fuel consumption increasing markedly at higher throttle settings. In ownership practice these yachts serve as privately owned platforms and, at times, owner-operated charter boats. Access to engines and routine service panels is through a hatch beneath the raised center cockpit seat—suitable for standard maintenance but not a full standing engine room. The integrated Three60 joystick and bow-thruster package is highly valued but comes at a significant cost, and owners stress the importance of regular upkeep typical of sportfish designs. Forum discussions about potential balsa-cored deck rot on older Hatteras models underscore the need for vigilant maintenance and thorough pre-purchase inspections.

Pros and Cons

- Cat Three60 joystick provides precise, low-speed maneuvering that simplifies docking.
- Quiet, soft-riding hull with reported cruise near 32 knots and 40–42-knot top speeds with C18 power.
- Flexible two-cabin interior and comfortable helm/mezzanine seating suit both fishing and family use.
- Higher fuel consumption at cruise speeds and especially near wide-open throttle.
- Three60 joystick with bow-thruster is a desirable but costly option.
- Engine-room access is via a service hatch rather than a full stand-up workspace.
