OVERVIEW

The price shown is an indication; all serious offers are invited. Launched in 2001, the custom Hatteras motor yacht Sunday Money is the 100-foot realization of a dream conceived and overseen by NASCAR legend Dale Earnhardt Sr., finished shortly after his passing. Named for a song he co-wrote with Brooks & Dunn, this vessel is both a refined tribute to his taste and a synthesis of superyacht elegance and performance-cruiser vitality.

Throughout the interior, Earnhardt's signature touches appear with quiet confidence: a bespoke compass rose motif, recalling the DEI emblem, is inlaid into the sole and delicately etched in glass, while the machinery space bears an unexpected, hands-on flourish—a Snap-on toolbox fitted with a custom latch—testimony to the owner's practical sensibility. The joinery celebrates fine materials and craftsmanship, with original Makore fiddleback veneers complemented by African walnut and warmed by substantial marble countertops, producing an atmosphere that is at once contemporary and timeless.

Engineered as a bluewater cruiser that marries power with polish, Sunday Money was built for open-ocean assurance and steady passage-making. Twin Detroit Diesel 16V-2000 engines rated at 1,850 horsepower each provide formidable propulsion, yielding a top end of approximately 23 knots that makes long runs swift and composed while preserving the quiet refinement expected of a yacht in this class. The layout emphasizes gracious living aboard: five staterooms accommodate ten guests comfortably, led by a full-beam owner's suite featuring his-and-hers baths. The main salon is arranged for elegant entertaining, with a formal dining area for eight and a handsome step-down, full-service bar, while two crew cabins with en-suite heads ensure professional service and privacy.

Care and stewardship have been attentive under a professional captain and crew, with reports indicating the main engines have recently undergone full service. Select electronics and systems upgrades have been installed to enhance reliability and enjoyment while honoring the vessel's original character. For purchasers seeking pedigree alongside performance, Sunday Money presents a rare combination of provenance, meticulous fit and finish, and capability in the 100-foot class.

A trailer is not included with the sale. Global shipping, custom cradles, and logistics to ports for export can be coordinated through reputable marine transport specialists, simplifying delivery to your preferred cruising grounds. Prospective buyers are urged to inspect and verify specifications and inventory independently; photographs may depict machinery and ancillary items, but no representation is made as to their condition beyond visual reference. Do not assume stored equipment or accessories are included—purchase decisions should be based solely on what is aboard and visible at the time of viewing.

This vessel is offered in good faith, with particulars believed accurate but not guaranteed, and is presented as-is, where-is, without warranty of any kind, including any warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. Availability, specifications, and price are subject to change or withdrawal without notice. Make your offer on this storied 100-foot Hatteras luxury yacht and seize the opportunity to own a notable piece of yachting history that delivers the poise of a superyacht and the heartbeat of a performance cruising yacht.
