OVERVIEW

101' KaiserWerft Luxury Motor Yacht — Monaco

Crafted in 2004 by the revered KaiserWerft GmbH and presented in Monaco, this 101-foot luxury motor yacht blends European pedigree with timeless elegance. Designed inside and out by KaiserWerft, her profile is sleek and modern, while her interiors radiate a refined calm—sophisticated, understated, and beautifully executed for effortless life at sea.

With a generous 21-foot beam, her GRP/fiberglass monohull and GRP decks deliver the ideal balance of rigidity, comfort, and low-maintenance practicality. A remarkably shallow draft—just under five feet—invites you to explore secluded bays and chic harbors alike, turning the Riviera's most exclusive anchorages into your private playground. She moves with poise and purpose, an inviting platform for extended Mediterranean cruising and elegant city-front evenings.

Powered by a single MTU engine, this motor yacht offers confident, quiet performance with an easy 14-knot cruising speed and a top speed of 20 knots. Her substantial fuel capacity—approximately 3,700 gallons—supports gratifying range and autonomy, while the ample freshwater reserve keeps on-board living indulgent and seamless. The result is a yacht engineered for meaningful journeys, not just glamorous moments between marinas.

On deck, every space is curated for relaxation and conviviality. Broad lounging areas invite sun-drenched afternoons, while the aft's alfresco ambiance sets the scene for leisurely breakfasts and candlelit dinners. Inside, the salon evokes the brand's signature craftsmanship—clean lines, fine materials, and luminous finishes—creating a serene, modern sanctuary where conversation flows and time slows. The atmosphere is luxurious yet welcoming, equally suited to intimate family cruising or hosting stylish gatherings at anchor.

For those who value a true superyacht sensibility in the coveted 100-foot class, this KaiserWerft stands out: a luxury motor yacht of GRP monohull construction, designed for discerning owners who appreciate performance, craft, and the quiet confidence of European design heritage. Poised in Monaco and ready to impress, she offers the rare combination of shallow-draft versatility, elegant living, and purposeful capability—an inspired choice for the next chapter of your yachting story.
