OVERVIEW

A yacht with a racy temperament and impeccably contemporary styling, the Custom Line 108' is a planing maxi motor yacht that pairs generous internal volumes, bespoke and sophisticated interiors, and cutting-edge systems with a forward-looking, modern conception of life at sea. Born from one of Custom Line's most celebrated designs and built in GRP, this luxury superyacht sits neatly within the brand's 28–38 m portfolio that spans both planing and semi-displacement ranges, marrying the poise of a refined cruising yacht with the athleticism of a true performance motor yacht.

Conceived by the Ferretti Group Engineering team in collaboration with Zuccon International Project, the 108' commands attention with taut, elongated lines and harmoniously resolved shapes. Its silhouette is sculpted by a bold superstructure and generous glazing, while an additional glass band at the raised pilothouse intensifies natural light and enhances visibility. Along the hull, four VIP suites are punctuated by distinctive rectangular windows — each approximately 1.70 square meters — engineered without a visible GRP frame and accompanied by a flush-bonded twin porthole for a seamless, minimalist aesthetic. The result is a flybridge superyacht that balances efficiency and exhilaration, feeling open, airy, and innately luxurious from bow to stern, and presented Turkish-flagged and VAT paid.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Additional information on machinery

Designed for whisper-quiet autonomy, the vessel can operate for up to 12 hours solely on its lithium battery system, with no generator use required. This extended silent-running capability preserves the serenity of life aboard, reducing noise, vibration, and emissions while maintaining comfort and essential onboard services. Ideal for overnight anchorage and discreet early-morning departures, it enhances efficiency and onboard well-being without compromising convenience.
