OVERVIEW

Commanding the water with understated authority, this 121-foot luxury motor yacht, built in 2008, exemplifies the refinement of fiberglass-composite construction. Her streamlined silhouette conceals generous interior volume and confident seakeeping, while a single CAT diesel engine delivers smooth, efficient passage-making with reassuring simplicity and exceptionally low vibration. Designed for aficionados of premier motor yachts, she reconciles purposeful performance with a tranquil onboard atmosphere, transforming every voyage into an elegant retreat.

Inside, sunlight pours through generous windows to bathe a salon crafted for effortless entertaining, where sumptuous lounges are arranged to encourage conversation, a sophisticated dining area invites lingering meals, and discreet service zones ensure every event proceeds with polished ease. The interior palette of fine joinery, sumptuous fabrics, and stone detailing creates a warm, contemporary environment, and the private owner's suite along with welcoming guest cabins provide restorative comfort for extended stays. Carefully sited crew quarters enable unobtrusive, professional service, preserving guest privacy while raising the standard of hospitality to boutique-hotel levels.

Afloat, alfresco life unfolds across multiple decks—from a broad aft terrace well suited to candlelit dinners to a versatile sundeck made for languid afternoons and sunset cocktails. Sturdy fiberglass decks and a composite hull make maintenance straightforward and underpin a quiet, assured ride, while generous storage accommodates tenders and water toys that complete each anchorage. Lying in the United States and ready to impress, this fiberglass motor yacht is equally at home on coastal cruises or bluewater passages—an enduring 2008 build that elevates every moment on the water.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Description

Preliminary listing. M/Y ARTHUR'S Way is a US duty paid 2008 Benetti Classic 121, a distinguished tri-deck motor yacht from Italy that marries refined exterior lines with true long-range capability and sumptuous onboard living. The exterior concept is by Stefano Righini while the interiors were crafted by François Zuretti, and this highly regarded model is celebrated for its graceful profile, generous internal arrangements, and dependable seakeeping.

Built with a GRP displacement hull and superstructure, the yacht measures approximately 121 feet (36.9 meters) overall, with a beam of nearly 26 feet and a draft of 7 feet 5 inches, resulting in a substantial 299 gross tons of volume. Naval architecture suited to comfortable ocean passages yields a cruising speed of about 11–12 knots and an extended range in excess of 3,000 nautical miles, including some 3,300 nautical miles at 11 knots. Propulsion is provided by twin Caterpillar engines, each rated at 1,550 horsepower and currently showing 5,500 hours; onboard stabilizers and Zero Speed fins contribute to enhanced comfort both underway and at anchor.

Accommodation is arranged for up to ten guests across five elegantly appointed staterooms, anchored by a full-beam master suite located on the main deck. Four additional guest cabins are situated below deck, offering flexible layouts, all finished with the meticulous joinery and luxurious details associated with Benetti craft. Crew facilities support up to seven personnel to ensure attentive service and efficient operation.

The tri-deck arrangement affords a variety of indoor and outdoor environments designed for refined entertaining. The main salon is defined by large picture windows and sophisticated furnishings, paired with a formal dining area, while the skylounge provides a more casual, panoramic space.

Outside, generous aft deck seating and an alfresco dining area flow to a capacious sundeck equipped with a Jacuzzi, bar, lounge seating, and expansive sun pads.

Combining classical superyacht refinement with practical function, the Benetti Classic 121—featuring Stefano Righini's exterior and François Zuretti's interiors—remains one of Benetti Yachts' most successful semi-custom platforms. With its balance of luxury, comfort, and true offshore capability, ARTHUR'S Way represents a compelling offering in the current brokerage market.
