OVERVIEW

This 44.50-metre Sanlorenzo 44Alloy, launched in 2023 and fashioned with an aluminium hull and superstructure, delivers 490 GT of interior volume and sleeps 10 guests in five cabins. Kept exclusively for private cruising since delivery, she pairs Sanlorenzo's clean, contemporary aesthetic with a highly practical layout designed for effortless owner operation. Twin MTU 16V2000 M96L diesel engines, each rated at 1,939 kW, propel her to an approximate 20-knot top speed and a comfortable 13-knot cruising pace; when run at an economical 11 knots she can achieve an approximate 2,000 nautical mile range. Her technical specification includes NAIAD stabilisers, an ABT bow thruster, two 118 kW generators, IDROMAR watermakers and VECO air conditioning to ensure serenity and performance both underway and at anchor. The internal arrangement revolves around a two-level owner's domain: a main-deck master suite with dressing room, en suite bathroom and private lobby linked by an internal staircase to a private office on the upper deck that opens directly onto the pool terrace. Also on the main deck are the aft cockpit, a luminous main salon, dining area, a professional galley and dedicated service circulation; the upper deck brings together the sky lounge, alfresco dining, wheelhouse, owner's office and pool terrace, while the sun deck is appointed with dining, a bar, a grill and ample lounging. The lower deck accommodates two VIP cabins, two twin cabins, separate crew quarters for 9 and a beach club lounge/gym with immediate sea access. Highlights include private ownership from new with just 865 h on the port engine and 864 h on the starboard, a 490 GT all aluminium construction that clearly delineates owner, guest and crew areas, an enticing beach club at water level and a performance profile combining an approximate 20-knot maximum with some 2,000 nm at 11 knots — a compelling proposition in the luxury motor yacht and superyacht arena.
