OVERVIEW

Euphoria 2 is a robust yacht featuring a steel hull complemented by an aluminum superstructure, proudly holding the highest accolades as a commercial vessel from the RINA classification society. This impressive yacht commands attention and admiration with her sleek, flowing exterior lines, making her a serious contender in the world of luxury yachts. Her stunning design is the work of renowned superyacht designer Ken Freivokh, celebrated for his creations such as the Dyna sails rigged "Maltese Falcon," "Project X," and the latest Azimut Magellano Series. This yacht exemplifies innovation, particularly in its use of glass, showcasing a forward-thinking approach to superyacht design. As noted in the studio's official project description: "Glass technology is central to the design, allowing the yacht to feature expansive, multi-deck panoramic windows, with even the bulwarks glazed, fostering a unique sense of openness to the sea." For those interested in yacht sales in the current boat location, Euphoria 2 stands out as an exceptional yacht for sale, offering a remarkable opportunity to buy a yacht that embodies luxury and sophistication.
