DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Section name

We are thrilled to reveal the forthcoming availability of a 2016 Hurricane SD 2200 deck boat, which seamlessly combines performance with comfort, making it perfect for family adventures and relaxed cruises. This vessel is equipped with a dependable Yamaha F150 outboard engine, guaranteeing smooth and efficient travel on the water. It comes with a 2019 Seahawk trailer in excellent condition, ensuring easy and stress-free transportation.

The Hurricane SD 2200 features a generous design with an 8.5-foot beam, offering plenty of space for up to six passengers to enjoy a day on the water. With a 56-gallon fuel tank, this boat is ideal for longer journeys without the need for frequent refueling. For added convenience, it includes a marine head with a sink, providing comfort on extended trips.

Safety and navigation are enhanced by a GPS system and a handheld VHF radio, while a depth finder offers essential insights into the water below. The boat is also adorned with a vibrant red bimini top, providing shade and sun protection, which enhances the overall boating experience.

We are in the process of acquiring this vessel and will soon share more details, including engine hours and photos. This Hurricane SD 2200 deck boat offers dependable family enjoyment at a reasonable price, making it a superb option for those in search of waterborne adventures.

Propulsion

The heart of this yacht's propulsion system is the esteemed Yamaha F150 engine, a model highly regarded for its dependability and impressive performance. This outboard motor is crafted to offer a smooth and robust ride, making it ideal for both relaxing cruises and thrilling adventures. Powered by gasoline, the Yamaha F150 optimizes energy efficiency, striking an ideal balance between power and fuel economy. This engine configuration not only elevates the yacht's overall performance but also ensures a seamless and pleasurable experience on the water.
