OVERVIEW

This one-off Iguana Sport Exclusive occupies the summit of amphibious craft engineering and dayboat luxury, marrying practical beach access with refined onboard appointments. Fitted with an electric drive pod, it permits silent, emissions-free approaches to and departures from the shore, after which you may engage the outboards and access full propulsion power. A significantly enlarged battery bank increases available electric cruising range, the electric day-head offers unusually generous accommodation for a boat of this type, and the specification includes nearly every factory option a discerning owner could request.

Commissioned to the exacting standards of a demanding owner who has since changed course, this yacht is now offered for sale at a truly exceptional price. For owners of waterfront property or those seeking the definitive superyacht tender, this represents an outstanding opportunity — the standout purchase of the season. Enquire now to learn more and secure this rare availability.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Introduction

This custom Iguana Sport Exclusive represents the pinnacle of amphibious engineering, marrying onshore agility with uncompromised offshore performance. Fitted with an electric pod, she is capable of slipping quietly onto and away from the shore under electric propulsion, then transitioning seamlessly to the full thrust of her outboards when you demand maximum speed. An extended battery capacity delivers generous electric range for extended silent operation, the spacious electric day head elevates onboard comfort, and no desirable option was left off the specification.

Built to the exacting standards of a very demanding owner who has since altered plans, she is now available for purchase—and at the current asking price presents exceptional value. For those with waterfront estates or anyone in search of the ultimate yacht tender, this is an opportunity not to be missed; contact us now to discover more and secure this rare offering.

Manufacturer description

Designed for leisurely days offshore, the Iguana Sport combines a spacious open-deck configuration with wraparound seating, an electric head and a generously proportioned helm to create an environment of effortless comfort. A potent hull sits alongside an intuitive deck plan and abundant storage, inviting water sports, coastal cruising, sunbathing and relaxed family excursions. With top speeds reaching up to 62 knots and the ability to land on virtually any shoreline, this yacht adapts seamlessly to every pursuit and destination. Its timeless, elegant lines provide the setting for unforgettable moments on the water, while a suite of customization options—from integrated hardtops to custom-painted engines and underwater LED lighting—lets you personalize the Iguana Sport to reflect your vision.
