OVERVIEW

2002 Pursuit 3000 Express — Refined, Upgraded, and Ready for the Next Passage

A yacht of unmistakable seaworthiness, this 2002 Pursuit 3000 Express combines a dry, confident ride with the versatility to pursue serious fishing or relaxed coastal cruising. The hull and outfitting speak to Pursuit's reputation for solid construction and thoughtful ergonomics, delivering both performance and comfort whether the day is spent chasing fish or exploring anchorages.

Mechanically renewed in 2021, the boat is powered by twin Crusader 5.7L V8 long blocks producing 330 horsepower apiece, with only 150 hours since the engine upgrade, and the installation included complete new exhaust systems. Navigation and fish-finding are modernized with a Garmin multifunction display installed in 2021, and fuel capacity is generous with twin 100-gallon tanks for a combined 200-gallon range suitable for extended runs. The bottom paint is fresh, the boat having been in the water for one month as of July 2025, and all systems are fully operational; the vessel is exceptionally clean, meticulously maintained, and available for immediate showings or a live walkthrough video upon request.

On deck, the spacious cockpit invites both socializing and serious angling with ample aft seating and plentiful storage for tackle and gear. A generous windshield offers protection and excellent visibility, while stainless steel rod holders and under-gunwale rod racks keep lines organized and ready. Practical fishing amenities include an insulated livewell, a macerated fish box with overboard drain, fresh and raw water washdowns, and a hinged transom door for easy access to the water. An entertainment center on the bridge deck keeps guests comfortable between pursuits.

Below, the accommodations are airy and well-laid-out, featuring generous headroom and a dinette that converts to a comfortable 6'6" berth, a fully equipped galley, and a large forward double berth. Air conditioning ensures comfort below decks for overnight passages or warm-weather cruising. This Pursuit 3000 Express delivers the blend of capability, modernized propulsion, and thoughtful outfitting that experienced boaters seek, offered now at its current location and ready for inspection.
