OVERVIEW

2011 Sea Ray 310 "Windy Gale IV"

Windy Gale IV exemplifies the refinement and seaworthy design of the Sea Ray 310 Sundancer line. Powered by twin 300 hp MerCruiser 350 Mag MPI engines mated to Bravo 3 outdrives, she delivers spirited performance and confident handling; both engines have recently received new risers and manifolds, reflecting attentive maintenance. A joystick control with Skyhook station-keeping and the integrated VesselView system simplify close-quarters maneuvering and provide clear, comprehensive engine data at your fingertips. Her deep blue hull remains vivid after years of careful upkeep, preserved from sun damage by indoor dry storage, while the coordinating blue canvas enclosure is complete and ready for use, including built-in screens for ventilation. On deck the cockpit invites relaxed gatherings for 6–8 guests, appointed with an electric grill that keeps cooking aromas outside the cabin, a versatile helm seat that swivels to face the cockpit for social interaction, and an outdoor refrigerator to keep beverages chilled.

Navigation and situational awareness are served by a Garmin 7610 10" display offering chart plotting, radar overlay, and depth information, providing modern electronics in an elegant package. In Florida's subtropical climate the main cabin hatch is fitted with a retractable screen door to keep insects at bay while allowing airflow. The interior is airy and light, with opening ports and an impressive 6'2" of headroom throughout the salon.

Accommodations are thoughtfully arranged: a full forward V-berth and a convenient side berth, both cushioned for comfortable rest, plus a second queen berth beneath the cockpit that benefits from its own window. The head is spacious and includes a shower, and a generator supplies ample power to run the air-conditioning for comfortable nights aboard.

Windy Gale IV is a swift, elegant, and well-preserved example of the 310

Sundancer, poised for new ownership and equally suited to offshore passages or cruising the ICW.
