DETAILED DESCRIPTION

2004 Venture 34 center console

Designed to run hard and return home dry, this 34-footer showcases a no-compromise build: hull sides, deck, and hatches are cored with Divinycell to maximize strength while trimming weight, while the bottom is hand-laid in solid fiberglass reinforced with Kevlar. Vacuum-bagged foam cores ensure flawless bonding throughout, and a ceramic-matrix-cored transom delivers exceptional compression strength when seas stack and throttles go down. With an overall length of 34 ft, a 10 ft beam, and a confident 24-degree deadrise at the transom, the boat tracks surefooted and rides softly; a maximum draft of 2.33 ft opens skinny waters without compromise. Displacing a dry weight of 6,400 lb, she carries the range and autonomy anglers demand, with a 300 gal fuel tank, a 50 gal fresh water tank, and an 11 gal holding tank, all integrated low and centered for balance.
