OVERVIEW

Current asking figure is intended only as a guide; all respectful offers are welcomed. The 2002 Sea Ray 340 Sundancer remains a distinguished example in the express cruiser realm, its generous 11'5" beam providing an unusually convivial cockpit and an interior that belies the 34-foot platform. Warm, high-gloss cherry joinery complements the tasteful upholstery and an open-plan salon, so that this sport cruiser marries refined finishes with everyday practicality for elegant weekend escapes. If your search has centered on a premium 34-foot express cruiser, this Sundancer merits careful consideration.

As presented, the vessel is tidy and shows well overall, with a single known mechanical matter: a defective shaft seal that should be replaced prior to launch. Aside from that item she is ready for a discerning buyer to inspect and to submit an offer. Please note a trailer is not included with the sale.

Transportation can be coordinated nationwide, including provision of custom cradles and delivery to port for international shipment when required. Logistics support is available for purchasers arranging regional or overseas moves, creating a seamless passage from dock to destination. Engine and systems information should be evaluated in person—see the Motors and Machinery Disclaimer for details.

No representation is made as to the condition of the motors, engines, or any onboard machinery. While photographs may depict the engine space, it remains the buyer's responsibility to inspect and to determine actual condition. Do not assume any stored gear or accessories are included; the vessel is offered strictly as seen, and you should make your offer or bid based solely on the equipment and features present at the time of viewing.

All details are provided in good faith but without warranty as to accuracy or condition; prospective buyers are encouraged to verify particulars to their satisfaction. This vessel is offered subject to prior sale, change in price, or withdrawal without notice. All marine assets—whether owned or brokered—are sold AS-IS, WHERE-IS, with no warranties expressed or implied, including merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and no verbal agreements shall amend the terms of sale.
