OVERVIEW

Current price is shown for guidance only, and all sincere offers will be graciously considered. The 2003 Donzi 35 ZF projects unmistakable presence both underway and at the dock, pairing heart-racing performance with Donzi's celebrated build quality. This 35-foot offshore center-console presents a sleek, athletic profile and a deep-V fiberglass hull that slices through chop with composure, offering the spirited yet controlled ride sought by serious anglers and performance-boat enthusiasts. With an open, fishable deck layout and the refined lines synonymous with Donzi's high-performance legacy, this sportfishing center-console represents a rare opportunity to own a 35-foot example from a storied builder.

Regarding condition, the ZF 35 exhibits clear signs of extended neglect. It has been reported that rainwater accumulated in the bilges to levels above the batteries, and the vessel shows generally rough overall condition. No electrical power has been applied since recovery, and the engines remain untested and unserviced; a full refit is likely necessary to restore her to proper operating condition. The trailer included in the sale appears to be structurally sound and reportedly tracked smoothly on the highway. Prospective buyers are urged to inspect carefully and to present their bid accordingly.

A trailer is included with the purchase; it is not titled and will be conveyed by bill of sale only. The trailer is a Magic Tilt triple-axle unit, offering sturdy support for both transport and storage, and it is part of this offering.

Nationwide transport can be arranged through Certified Marine Transport, including custom cradles and delivery to port for international shipment; logistics support and quotes are available upon request.

Motors and Machinery Disclaimer: No representation is made regarding the condition of the motors, engines, or machinery. Photographs that depict the machinery space are for reference only; it is solely the buyer's responsibility to
