Step onto this remarkable 2025 model yacht, a harmonious fusion of refined design and precise engineering now offered for sale in the scenic waters of Italy. Measuring a graceful 36 feet in length with an 11-foot beam, the vessel achieves an elegant balance of agility and onboard comfort, inviting both spirited cruising and languid afternoons beneath the sun.

The hull, fashioned from premium fiberglass and plastic, delivers lasting strength as well as a sleek, glassy look that parts the Mediterranean with effortless poise. Above, the deck—also constructed of fiberglass—unfolds generous spaces for lounging, entertaining, or simply taking in the coastal panorama, each line and surface conceived to enhance the pleasure of life at sea.

Propulsion comes from a pair of robust Mercury engines, which translate power into smooth, confident performance whether slipping into hidden bays or making passages between vibrant harbors.
