OVERVIEW

Axopar 37 XC Cross Cabin BRABUS Line (2025)

Twin Mercury V8 outboards delivering 300 hp each—600 hp in total—propel this virtually new vessel from its home port in Mykonos, Greece; Model Year 2025 with just 40 engine hours. The Axopar 37 XC Cross Cabin in BRABUS Line trim melds the adventurous agility of a walkaround with the polished presence of a modern motor yacht, its athletic silhouette and signature BRABUS details announcing intent even at rest.

Beneath the styling lies a twin-stepped deep-V hull with a fine-entry bow that soaks up chop for a soft, dry ride and confident seakeeping. Twin Mercury 300 V8 engines deliver brisk, effortless acceleration, precise handling and a top pace in excess of 45 knots while remaining surprisingly frugal for extended passages, giving the boat both offshore composure and long-range usability. Steering is crisp, noise is restrained, and the hull balance makes this an exhilarating yet stable offshore performer.

Inside, the fully enclosed pilothouse presents wide sliding doors, a panoramic roof and a convertible lounge that adapts to day trips or overnight comfort. The BRABUS Line package elevates the interior with exclusive upholstery, contrast stitching, red accents and unmistakable branding. Electronics are comprehensive: dual Simrad 12" Glass Bridge displays with integrated GPS/plotter, depth sounder and VHF for surefooted navigation and situational awareness.

Practical comforts include the optional Comfort Package fittings—electric toilet, freshwater sink, refrigerator and a Webasto heater—with air conditioning available if desired. Lighting is thoughtfully specified with LED cabin and courtesy illumination plus underwater lights to set the evening mood. Entertainment comes via Fusion Signature audio with amplifier and subwoofer for rich sound ashore or at sea.

Decks are arranged for safe, confident movement with true walkaround access, a foredeck sunpad and an aft area that converts between sofa, wet bar or an aft cabin layout. Handling and close-quarters control are aided by a bow thruster, trim tabs and an electric anchor windlass. The result is a versatile dayboat, pilothouse walkaround and capable tender that pairs BRABUS styling and excellent construction with category-leading seakeeping, inviting owners to explore farther in comfort and style.
