OVERVIEW

Current asking price is provided as a guideline; all reasonable offers will be given thoughtful consideration.

Designed to combine the rugged capability of a true offshore workhorse with the refinement of a luxury cruiser, the 2002 Pursuit 3800 Express is a versatile example of classic American yachtbuilding. Her wide-beam, deep-V hull confidently cleaves head seas and underpins a substantial, tournament-ready cockpit equipped with large insulated fish boxes, a livewell and a dedicated bait and rigging station that serious anglers expect. Descend below and the purposeful open express layout becomes a comfortable, climate-controlled sanctuary, appointed in warm teak joinery with a fully equipped galley and inviting berths that allow for relaxed extended coastal passages. At approximately 38 feet overall, this open sportfishing express delivers a composed, authoritative ride and a timeless silhouette for owner-operators unwilling to compromise between offshore fishing performance and elegant weekend cruising.

This Pursuit has been maintained by professionals and shows attractively. She was recently steamed under her own power to a private dock in Naples, FL, a testament to the reliability of her seakeeping and onboard systems.

Prospective buyers are encouraged to inspect this impressive 3800 Express and submit offers accordingly. A trailer is not included with the sale.

Nationwide transport can be coordinated, with custom cradles available and export shipment to port for international delivery supported. Logistics planning and shipping estimates can be provided upon request.
