Manufacturer provided description

Crafted to the same robust standards as the acclaimed 53 Sueños, the 39 Speciale is designed to meet the varied demands of anglers globally with its versatile engine options. At the bow, it incorporates the same innovative anchoring system as the 53 Sueños, with the anchor neatly stored below deck in a flush mount cavity, ensuring full visibility from the helm during both deployment and retrieval. The forward section can be tailored as a completely open fishing deck or fitted with seating on both port and starboard sides, with optional backrests and fish boxes to match the angler's preferences.

The console's front features a coffin box that serves as both a sun lounge and a refrigerator, inspired by the 5300 and 4200 models. This 12-volt refrigerator or freezer, made by Frigid Rigid, is renowned for its superior insulation in the marine sector. The spacious cockpit includes a rear-facing seat that integrates a rigging station, 12-volt refrigerators, tackle storage, and a freshwater sink. The console is outfitted with three Garmin displays, and standard amenities include a high-end sound system, outriggers, radar, and autopilot. The helm station is completed with a fiberglass T-top and a three-sided windshield. Inside the console, there is a flush toilet, sink, and bunk, along with a distinctive vertical rod storage system. A bow thruster is available as an optional feature. With a fuel capacity of 526 gallons, the 39 Speciale provides an almost limitless daily range, making it an outstanding option for those in pursuit of aquatic adventures.
