OVERVIEW

A graceful fusion of tradition and modern engineering, this 2021, 40-foot motor yacht presents the tactile warmth of wood beneath the sleek protection of a fiberglass finish. Her elegant silhouette, carried on a slender 11-foot beam, reads classic and composed against the Mediterranean light, an ideal companion for the Greek islands where she is currently berthed.

The hull and decks are expertly sheathed in fiberglass over hand-laid timber, marrying the character and acoustic calm of wooden construction with the durability and low maintenance of composite skin. That construction philosophy yields a quieter, more composed passage and a finish that ages with quiet dignity, attracting admiring glances in every harbor she visits.

Deck spaces are spacious and inviting, designed for unhurried days afloat. Secure side decks guide you forward with confidence, while a sheltered cockpit provides an intimate setting for alfresco meals and evening aperitifs. From the transom, effortless access to the water makes swimming, snorkeling, or lowering a tender straightforward and enjoyable, perfect for spontaneous stops in sheltered coves.

Below, natural light pours through broad windows to reveal finely executed joinery and contemporary soft furnishings that enhance the feeling of open, airy comfort. The salon offers room to gather with friends, and a well-considered galley supports easy provisioning and meal preparation whether underway or at anchor. Thoughtful storage throughout encourages longer coastal cruises by keeping belongings neatly stowed for weekend or extended escapes.

Propulsion is provided by a single Mercury diesel, chosen for its quiet efficiency and dependable performance, delivering relaxed cruising and economical operation. At the helm, responsive controls and the yacht's balanced hull inspire confidence when threading between islands or slipping into a snug

Mediterranean berth, complemented by modern navigation and safety equipment for intuitive, secure handling.

Built in 2021 and offered in Greece, this 40-footer is a refined option for those who value classic lines without surrendering contemporary comforts. Equally suited as an elegant dayboat, a polished weekender, or a tasteful coastal cruiser, she provides an intimate platform for discovering secluded beaches, lingering lunches at anchor, and savoring every nautical mile.
