OVERVIEW

This exquisite J Craft Torpedo R, launched in 2011 and hand-built on the windswept shores of Gotland, Sweden, marries timeless wooden elegance with contemporary engineering. Its vacuum-infused fiberglass hull is veneered with book-matched West African mahogany, each hull receiving twenty layers of varnish and more than 8,000 hours of artisan labour, producing a surface that reads like a classic while benefitting from a composite core. Below that graceful exterior sits a modern drivetrain: upgraded twin Volvo Penta IPS 600 pod drives with joystick control, delivering responsive handling, 20% greater speed and 30% improved fuel economy versus traditional installations, and a thrilling top end of 42 knots. Tested for seakeeping in the Baltic, the North Sea and the Mediterranean, the hull offers exceptional stability for both sheltered coastal passages and blue-water runs, with an economical cruising range of approximately 280 nautical miles. On deck generous seating accommodates more than eight guests, while below there is a forward cabin configured for four, a wet-head and a compact kitchenette fitted with fridge, sink and an induction hob, and overall sleeping for five. Season-ready and impeccably maintained by a single owner, this Torpedo R is EU VAT PAID and currently berthed in Cannes, France, presenting the rare combination of vintage charm and modern, low-maintenance reliability.
