OVERVIEW

LADY CHAMPAGNE II, a 2025 Formula 400 Super Sport Crossover berthed in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, artfully blends the polish of upscale dayboating with true overnight capability and thrilling outboard performance. Powered by four Mercury V10 400 outboards with approximately 180 hours, she comfortably cruises at around 40 mph and can sprint to roughly 65 mph when desired. Her equipment list reads like a captain's dream: a Seakeeper gyro for stable passages, a bow thruster for effortless close-quarters handling, Raymarine Cyclone open array radar paired with a FLIR thermal camera, plus autopilot, AIS and chartplotter for confident navigation. Onboard systems include a Westerbeke 7 kW generator, full air conditioning, and a cockpit shower, while the deck is arranged specifically with watersports and active days on the water in mind. Below, the refined cabin offers sleeping accommodations, an enclosed private head and generous 6'3" headroom, finished with tasteful appointments throughout. Finished in a dramatic blue Imron hull and covered by Formula Guard through November 14, 2029, LADY CHAMPAGNE II represents a late model Formula crossover that seamlessly marries high speed, onboard comfort and a comprehensive suite of premium gear.

Located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, she is ideal for owners who want the exhilaration of a luxury day boat, the comforts of a weekend cruiser, and the assured performance of a purpose-built outboard crossover.

Propulsion is provided by quad Mercury V10 400 outboards showing approximately 180 hours, enabling a reported 40 mph cruise and a 65 mph top speed. Her stepped deep V hull, stainless four blade propellers, bow thruster, and Seakeeper gyro stabilizer work in concert to deliver composed handling, precise maneuverability, and an exceptionally smooth ride consistent with a premium Formula construction.

The exterior layout is tailored for effortless entertaining and relaxed coastal cruising, with cockpit and open deck spaces that form an inviting social center for family and guests. Practical deck equipment supports carefree days aboard, including an anchor windlass with a 200 foot anchor chain, a cockpit shower, a searchlight, and broad swim access that make both short outings and extended weekends simple to enjoy.

Below decks, the accommodation is efficiently arranged with one stateroom, two berths, one head, and 6 feet 3 inches of headroom. Climate control and creature comforts are addressed by air conditioning and heating, effective ventilation, an electric head, and thoughtfully integrated systems that allow comfortable overnight stays and longer escapes throughout South Florida and beyond.

Electronics and navigation are comprehensive, featuring a Raymarine Cyclone open array radar, chart plotter, autopilot, AIS, a compass, and a FLIR camera. Mechanical and onboard systems include a Westerbeke 7 kW generator with approximately 180 hours, air conditioning, bilge pump, fuel filters, onboard cameras, and robust plumbing and electrical installations that support reliable operation.

Presented in a striking blue Imron hull, LADY CHAMPAGNE II carries the presence and polish expected from the Super Sport Crossover line. With Formula Guard coverage reportedly valid through November 14, 2029, she represents a late model opportunity for buyers seeking a modern, well equipped, high performance cruiser—equally suited to entertaining, cruising, sandbar days, or slipping away for the weekend with confidence.
