OVERVIEW

75 hours | Twin Yamaha 450 XTOs | Stored on a lift | Virtually as-new

Available now in Miami, this exceptional 2025 Capelli Stradivari 43 offers a rare opportunity to take ownership of one of the most striking luxury day yachts in the market. With twin Yamaha 450 XTO outboards registering only 75 hours and having been lift-kept since delivery, she presents in nearly new, meticulously maintained condition. Built in Cremona, Italy—the storied birthplace of the Stradivari violin—the Stradivari 43 reflects the same commitment to fine craftsmanship, balance, and engineering finesse, translating centuries-old artisanal values into a modern performance day cruiser.

This outboard-driven sport yacht fuses Italian refinement with cutting-edge systems and exhilarating capability. Producing a combined 900 horsepower, she offers brisk acceleration, confident offshore manners and intuitive handling enabled by Yamaha Joystick Piloting complemented by a bow thruster. A deep-V hull partnered with an advanced collar delivers enhanced stability both underway and at anchor while preserving the expansive deck area that defines premium Mediterranean-style RIBs and upscale dayboats. Designed for open-air living, the Stradivari 43 greets guests with generous sunpads, sculpted premium upholstery and continuous teak decking that runs from bow to stern beneath a sleek hardtop that provides shade and striking presence. Practical amenities for waterborne leisure include a removable stern shower for easy rinsing, bow and aft sunshade systems for extended comfort, and a cockpit that converts from a refined lounge into a convivial social space around an electrically actuated teak table—ideal for leisurely lunches, island hopping or sunset cocktails at anchor.

Below deck the day-boat sensibility continues with a luminous forward sleeping cabin, a private enclosed head with a separate shower and an inviting aft guest cabin, together sleeping four comfortably for effortless overnighting. The interior finish reflects Capelli's attention to detail, marrying understated luxury with purposeful layout that serves both weekend cruising and potential superyacht-tender roles.

This Stradivari 43 is comprehensively equipped with key systems and premium electronics: twin Yamaha 450 XTO outboards with just 75 hours, Yamaha Joystick Piloting, a bow thruster, dual Garmin 12-inch multifunction displays and a Garmin VHF radio, with SIONYX night vision for confident after-dark operations. The hardtop covers a full teak deck installation while a JL Audio sound system enhances the onboard ambiance. Comfort and convenience features include 10,000 BTU air conditioning, shore power with battery charger, a hot-water system, and an electric windlass with a stainless-steel anchor, augmented by underwater lighting that creates an evocative nighttime scene. For alfresco living the yacht offers bow and stern sunshade systems, a removable stern shower plus a freshwater cockpit shower, and a well-equipped galley area with a helm refrigerator, dedicated bottle refrigerator and an espresso machine. The electrically operated teak cockpit table, full exterior cushion package and the private enclosed head with separate shower reinforce the Stradivari 43's upscale credentials while the forward and aft berths expand her versatility from dayboat to weekender. Lift kept since new, she presents exactly as a discerning buyer would expect.

With few Stradivari 43s available in the United States, this is an uncommon chance to acquire an accomplished European day yacht without the delay, added expense or complexity of importing a new build. For those seeking an elegant alternative to conventional center consoles and day cruisers, the Capelli Stradivari 43 delivers a distinctive synthesis of Italian styling, superior build quality, luxurious appointments and spirited performance in a head-turning package.

Shown by appointment in Miami, Florida.
