OVERVIEW

Introducing M/Y BABY — Anvera 48 #24, a 14.50 metre performance yacht where advanced carbon fibre engineering, exhilarating performance and refined onboard living come together in perfect harmony. Built predominantly from carbon fibre to deliver an exceptional power to weight ratio, the Anvera 48 attains a top speed of 42 knots while remaining remarkably efficient and effortless to handle. Her clever fold down terraces convert the stern into an intimate beach club, extending the beam from 4.91m to 5.51m when deployed and creating an alfresco platform more commonly found on much larger yachts. Inside, the atmosphere is light, elegant and unexpectedly spacious, offering a generous saloon, a king size berth forward, twin sleeping accommodation amidships and a well equipped bathroom with a separate shower — an arrangement equally suited to spirited day runs or extended escapes. At anchor she becomes a private shoreline retreat; underway she demonstrates the precision and poise afforded by her all carbon architecture. Comfortable as a pure performance yacht, a luxury day cruiser or a superyacht chase boat, M/Y BABY unites Italian craftsmanship with true versatility and now stands ready to welcome her next owner, available for private use or commercial operation.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

My Baby Anvera 48 2024 hull number 24

M/Y Baby, Anvera 48 hull no. 24, is a 14.50-metre performance yacht that marries advanced carbon-fibre engineering with luxurious onboard living. Constructed predominantly in carbon fibre to maximise its power-to-weight ratio, she is capable of reaching speeds up to 42 knots while remaining remarkably fuel-efficient and easy to handle. Her hallmark fold-down side terraces convert the aft deck into an extraordinary private beach club, expanding the beam from 4.91 m to 5.51 m when deployed and delivering exterior volumes more commonly found on much larger yachts. Inside, the atmosphere is bright, refined and unexpectedly spacious, offering a generous saloon, a forward king-size berth, twin berths amidships and a well-appointed bathroom with a separate shower—comfortable for high-adrenaline day trips or extended escapes alike. At anchor she becomes your secluded beach; underway she exposes the precision and performance inherent in full-carbon construction. Equally suited to life as an independent performance yacht, an opulent day cruiser or a dedicated superyacht chase boat, M/Y Baby showcases Italian craftsmanship and versatile capability, and is now ready to welcome her next owner for private or commercial operation.
