OVERVIEW

A versatile and refined luxury dayboat, the Wally 48X combines a sleek walkaround center-console silhouette with an inviting cabin, marrying exhilarating performance and nimble handling to a sophisticated onboard experience. Its finely tuned deep-V hull, engineered by Wally in collaboration with the Ferretti Group team, delivers composed offshore manners and a comfortable ride, while a shallow draft affords access to skinny-water anchorages that expand cruising possibilities from the Hamptons to the Vineyard or Miami to the Bahamas.

Propulsion comes from Quad Mercury Verado 450Rs, unleashing a combined 1,800 hp that propels the yacht to 50+ knot top speeds and supports an effortless 40-knot cruise with roughly 300 nm of range. Handling is enhanced by Mercury Axius hydraulic/electric power-assist steering and SmartCraft DTS with joystick docking and Skyhook position hold, and routine maintenance is simplified by a Reverso automated engine flushing system; peace of mind is furthered by Mercury Platinum five-year extended coverage.

Entertaining aboard is intuitive and luxurious: drop-down bulwarks convert the cockpit into an expansive waterside terrace and port and starboard folding terraces extend the social space, while fore and aft sunloungers invite long hours of relaxation beneath a generous hardtop that shades the dining lounge and cockpit seating. A centrally positioned telescoping swim ladder works in concert with the Besenzoni passerelle nestled between the outboards for effortless water access, complemented by underwater lighting and both fresh- and raw-water washdowns.

Below, carbon-fiber stairs lead to a beautifully finished, air-conditioned cabin appointed with a large double V-berth, a comfortable sofa lounge, abundant stowage and an enclosed head with a separate shower—ideal for overnight stays or weekend passages. Onboard systems and comforts include an 11 kW

Kohler diesel generator, Seakeeper 6 gyrostabilization, Humphree trim tabs with LED indicators and auto-retract, a Simrad navigation suite, and a Fusion stereo amplified by JL Audio amplifiers and speakers. Practical refinements such as exterior upholstery with a full cover set, teak decking and a folding cockpit table, a cockpit wet bar with refrigerator, and a custom sunpad headrest pillow complete the package.

A statement-making performance center console and express sport yacht, the 48X excels as a luxury dayboat, weekend cruiser, chase boat, or superyacht tender—seamlessly blending style, speed, and versatility in a single striking vessel.
