DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Bertram 510 (2004) Orqui - Tenerife, Spain

Spanish flag, VAT paid. ORQUI is a 2004 Bertram 510 based in Tenerife: a meticulously maintained flybridge motor yacht and capable sportfishing convertible, equally suited to offshore game fishing, bluewater cruising, and relaxed family cruising. Powered by twin MAN-D2842LE404 engines delivering a combined 2600 hp (1300 hp each) with approximately 1350 hours, she reaches 38 knots and runs with the confident, dry ride for which Bertram is renowned. Length overall is 16.7 m with a 5 m beam, fuel capacity is 3940 liters, and fresh water capacity is 700 liters.

A recent, superb flybridge enclosure enhances comfort and protection, with folding side windows, zippered vinyl screens aft, windshield wipers on the three forward windscreens with freshwater spray, and four overhead hatches that promote excellent airflow. The flybridge roof features anti-slip paint zones for safe, comfortable access during maintenance.

Her specification is impressively complete for a fishing yacht and family cruiser alike: a spacious hydraulic swim platform that lowers more than half a meter below sea level and is prepared for a tender; a hydraulic foredeck davit for launching and recovery; extended stanchions for confident movement along the side decks; and a teak flybridge ladder with broader treads and a gentler incline for added comfort and safety. Handling is effortless with a bow thruster, trim tabs, a Yacht Controller remote to operate both engines, the anchor, and the bow thruster from anywhere aboard, plus automatic bilge pumps for peace of mind.

Onboard comfort and entertainment are equally well considered: full-boat air conditioning and heating, an enlarged salon television, Bluetooth audio with Pioneer speakers on the flybridge, in the cockpit, and inside the cabin spaces via a Bluetooth player, as well as a washer and dryer, a watermaker for extended autonomy, and a wet exhaust system that minimizes smoke. CCTV with four cameras is monitored from the helm, and the inventory also includes a spare anchor and underwater diving lights, among many other thoughtful touches.

A compelling opportunity for those seeking a high-quality sportfishing yacht that doubles as a comfortable bluewater cruiser. Turnkey and well-presented; viewing is strongly recommended.
