HEADING TO FLORIDA

The 2001 Viking Convertible 50 is a remarkable sport fishing yacht that seamlessly blends sophistication with practicality. Its hull boasts a striking ice blue hue, complemented by pristine white superstructures. This vessel's timeless and sturdy design makes it perfect for navigating open seas. Equipped with a full aluminum bow rail, anchor pulpit, and windlass, it promises both safety and style. Inside, the yacht offers a spacious and thoughtfully arranged layout, featuring three cabins and two bathrooms, ideal for extended journeys. Currently located on the stunning shores of Venezuela, this magnificent yacht is powered by two MAN 1050hp engines (note: the clock is damaged and does not display hours) and two electric generators of 17 and 19 kVA, with approximately 5000 hours of use. It includes a desalination plant and functional electronics, though the screens require repair. With a fuel capacity of 3200 liters and a fresh water capacity of 500 liters, along with a battery charger, this yacht is ready for any test. If you're looking to buy a yacht, this vessel is a prime candidate in the yacht sales market at its current boat location.
