OVERVIEW

TAKE 5 is a 2025 Formula 500 Super Sport Crossover created for owners who demand high-performance excitement, refined comfort, and the flexibility to function as both an exhilarating dayboat and a capable weekender. Measuring 56'3" LOA with a 14'6" beam, this Formula 500 SSC combines generous open-air entertaining spaces, steady offshore manners, and the meticulous fit-and-finish that reflect Formula's luxury sport yacht and express cruiser heritage.

Motivation comes from quad Mercury 600 V12 outboards showing approximately 175-177 hours, giving TAKE 5 authoritative thrust with a reported cruising speed near 40 MPH and a top end around 65 MPH. The deep-V, twin-stepped FRP hull, paired with an SS Duo Prop arrangement, bow thruster, and an SK6 gyro stabilizer, delivers a composed, confident ride that holds its own in offshore conditions.

A distinctive blue gradient Imron hull sets an elegant tone visually, while the electronics package centers on a Raymarine suite with four chartplotters, radar, autopilot, AIS, and Starlink for connectivity. The cockpit is arranged for sociable cruising with comfortable seating and a dining table, cockpit speakers, and a convenient cockpit shower that enhance its water-focused entertaining capabilities. Below decks, the accommodation is designed for relaxed overnighting with one stateroom, one berth, and one head.

Located in Deerfield, Florida, TAKE 5 is presented in excellent condition and remains covered by Formula Guard protection through 12/12/2029.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Take 5 Formula 500

TAKE 5 represents Formula's Super Sport Crossover vision distilled into a singular, luxurious platform—an owner-focused performance cruiser that equally accommodates offshore passages, elegant day boating, weekend retreats, and sociable entertaining. Constructed by Thunderbird Formula and delivered as a 2025 Formula 500 Super Sport Crossover, she measures 56'3" overall with a 50' waterline and a 14'6" beam, riding on a deep-V twin-stepped FRP hull penned by John Adams. Her silhouette is accentuated by a dramatic blue-gradient Imron hull finish that complements a crossover deck plan engineered to provide the space, flow, and adaptability expected of Formula's flagship offerings.

Performance and control remain central to her character. Four Mercury 600 V12 outboards produce a combined 2,400 horsepower and showed approximately 175–177 hours as of May 2026, delivering a reported cruising speed near 40 MPH and a top end around 65 MPH for confident coastal runs and island hops. Handling and comfort are enhanced by an SS Duo Prop arrangement, a bow thruster, and an SK6 gyro stabilizer to smooth passages, simplify docking, and steady the vessel at anchor. The cockpit is crafted for open-air living and entertaining, with abundant seating, a cockpit table and cushions, a cockpit shower, and integrated speakers arranged for convivial gatherings—ideal for South Florida sorties, sandbar afternoons, sunset cruises, and weekend escapes—while searchlights and an anchor windlass add practical convenience and safety.

Below decks the interior is optimized for short-term cruising, offering one stateroom, a single berth, and one head to comfortably accommodate two overnight guests. Tankage supports extended use with 100 gallons of freshwater, a 60-gallon holding tank, and an impressive 650-gallon fuel capacity, and a 12-foot bridge clearance expands cruising options. Navigation and connectivity are well provisioned with a Raymarine electronics suite featuring four chartplotters and Raymarine Cyclone radar, backed by GPS, AIS, depthsounder, compass, camera, and autopilot, while Starlink delivers modern internet access underway or at anchor. Additional highlights include a Kohler 16 kW generator with roughly 240 hours, fiberglass fuel and water tanks, sturdy FRP construction, and the reassurance of Formula Guard warranty coverage valid through December 12, 2029. Located in Deerfield, Florida, TAKE 5 is a late-model Formula 500 SSC that harmonizes high-performance capability, refined style, warranty protection, and the versatile lifestyle of a premium crossover yacht.
