OVERVIEW

The Numarine 55 Fly, built in 2009 and privately owned, presents as an immaculately kept and richly appointed flybridge motor yacht that marries contemporary silhouette with a robust GRP hull and supremely comfortable interiors. At 17.60 m overall with a 4.45 m beam and a shallow 1.16 m draft, she offers approximately 78.32 m<sup>2</sup> of combined deck and interior area, creating generous spaces for socialising on deck and relaxed living below. USA flagged and conceived for languid weekends or extended coastal cruising, she projects both luxury and dependable seakeeping, with a broad, sociable flybridge above and muscular engineering beneath that inspire assured handling and enjoyable passages.

Propulsion is provided by twin Caterpillar diesels, each developing 705 hp with electronic controls, running on diesel and currently recording roughly 1,575 hours; the installation yields a composed ride and an effortless top speed of around 17 knots, while a bow thruster guarantees precise close quarters manoeuvring. Built in fiberglass (GRP) for resilience and low maintenance, her systems have benefited from a comprehensive programme of refits and upgrades that elevate reliability and onboard comfort, from electrical panel indicator upgrades and navigation lights converted to LED through to a professionally repaired hydraulic motor.

Accommodation follows a practical 3 + 1 layout that has been carefully considered for family and guest use: four cabins comprise a serene master suite, a generous VIP, a flexible twin and a practical crew cabin, together providing seven berths and a dedicated crew toilet. The interior is cooled throughout by air conditioning in salon and cabins—recently serviced—and is equipped with TV and satellite for entertainment ashore or at anchor. Teak surfaces have been tended, all gauges and carpets renewed, and thoughtful extras such as a flybridge console side sunshade and newly tailored towel covers for all seating add daily refinement.

The specification and recent service history are thorough and confidence inspiring: the generator is fully serviced (including a replaced diesel fuel filter), the air conditioning systems have been serviced, and navigation is supported by autopilot, GPS and VHF. A watermaker supplies real independence for longer passages. Practical luxury continues in the deck equipment with a hydraulic bathing platform for effortless tender and water access and an automatic passerelle for elegant boarding. A long list of renewals enhances dependability—rectifier, anchor chain counter, underwater LED array, bilge pump, aft deck and salon step LEDs, engine and service batteries, seawater A/C pump, black water level indicator and black water discharge macerator have all been attended to—and the main engine service batteries have been replaced to ensure readiness.

The flybridge has been improved with a sound system, a renewed compass and refreshed console panel buttons, while upgrades to electrical indicators and a full conversion to LED navigation lights bolster safety and efficiency. Completing the turnkey offering is a serviced Zodiac tender powered by a 20 hp Yamaha outboard, itself repaired and ready for use. Well maintained, comprehensively equipped and beautifully presented, this Numarine 55 Fly is a polished, versatile luxury flybridge cruiser ready for the season.
