OVERVIEW

Azimut 58, 1998, "FAME ONE" — EU VAT settled and flying the German flag, this timeless flybridge motor yacht marries classic Italian lines with generous interior volume. Although launched in 1998, she presents far beyond her years thanks to a comprehensive interior refurbishment completed two years ago; the result is an elegant, comfortable living environment harmoniously blended with robust engineering. Her planing-hull delivers confident performance and composed handling, driven by twin MTU 8V 183 TE93 engines (approx. 1,350 hours) that have benefited from a major overhaul of about €70,000 (invoices on file), while a 17 kW generator ensures systems and comforts remain uninterrupted.

Designed for family cruising, the layout comprises 3 cabins and 3 bathrooms, and onboard comfort is comprehensive: air conditioning, heating, two refrigerators, LED TV, premium stereo and SAT TV. Practical systems include bow thruster, radar and autopilot, and the deck is extended with a spacious bathing platform/swim deck. With the recent interior refit and documented MTU service, this Azimut 54/58 is absolutely worth a private viewing. Crypto accepted: Bitcoin, USDT, ETH and other major coins.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Azimut 58 (1998) "Fame One"

Azimut 58 (1998) "FAME ONE" presents a rare opportunity: EU VAT is paid and she proudly flies the German flag, and her condition is exemplary. Although launched in 1998, she feels markedly fresher than her peers thanks to a comprehensive interior refit completed two years ago, complemented by a major MTU overhaul carried out a few years back for around €70,000 with invoices available for complete peace of mind. Power comes from twin MTU 8V 183TE93 engines showing around 1,350 hours, delivering the poised performance and reassuring reliability that define this pedigree model, while a 17 kW generator supports life on board and air conditioning and heating ensure year-round comfort. The layout offers three cabins and three bathrooms, seamlessly balanced by Azimut's signature design language and abundant natural light, and her specification is thoroughly equipped for effortless cruising with a bow thruster for confident close-quarters handling, radar and autopilot at the helm, satellite TV and a LED television for entertainment, and a refined stereo audio system throughout. An extended swim platform invites long days at anchor and the practical galley, appointed with two fridges, makes extended stays comfortable; taken together with the documented works and recent refit—this Azimut 54/58 is unequivocally worth your viewing, and we also accept cryptocurrency for a quick, secure purchase, including Bitcoin, USDT, ETH and other major coins.
