OVERVIEW

2008 — 65 foot Performance Motor Yacht lying in Greece

Designed for those who prize pace and polish in equal measure, this 65 foot motor yacht fuses Mediterranean allure with genuine performance temperament. Her hull and topsides are fashioned in fiberglass/GRP, delivering a reassuringly solid, quiet ride whether carving through coastal seas or settled at anchor among island coves. Built in 2008, she presents a sleek, modern silhouette that reads as much a Sports Yacht as an Express Cruiser.

Propelled by twin MAN inboard diesels, she accelerates to a thrilling top speed of up to 45 knots and cruises comfortably at 40 knots, enabling swift, efficient passages between ports while maintaining composed throttle response and refined sea manners. A generous beam of 16 feet provides notable stability and interior volume, and a shallow draft of just over 4.3 feet allows access to secluded bays and shallow anchorages that deeper vessels cannot reach.

The exterior arrangement encourages effortless alfresco living: a spacious cockpit invites sunlit lounging and relaxed dining, while broad side decks with secure GRP footing make movement forward safe and straightforward whether tending lines in a bustling marina or drifting into a sunset anchorage. Her purposeful lines and poised stance speak to performance pedigree, while thoughtful ergonomics keep her eminently usable for owner-operators and professional crews alike.

Inside, a bright, climate friendly salon welcomes guests with contemporary finishes and a serene, coastal palette, creating an atmosphere of understated luxury. The galley is laid out for convivial entertaining, equally practical for leisurely lunches or quick hors d'oeuvres between swims. Accommodation is configured for four guests in well proportioned staterooms, complemented by a trio of heads that balance en suite privacy with a dedicated day head for visitors. A discreet crew berth further supports extended cruising or owner operator flexibility.

Tankage has been specified to afford ample range and weekend self sufficiency, while modern navigation and onboard systems keep operation intuitive and secure. Whether you picture spirited runs across the Aegean, refined evenings in port, or coastal exploration with family and friends, this 2008 65 foot motor yacht represents a captivating blend of style, speed, and substance—Mediterranean ready and poised to elevate every voyage.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Pershing 64#06 M/Y PAX

The Pershing 64 is a rare blend of elegance, raw speed, and remarkable accommodation efficiency, and M/Y PAX exemplifies this to perfection. Meticulously maintained by her professional captain, she delivers effortless 40-knot cruising powered by twin MAN engines with a combined 3100 HP. Life on board flows beautifully from the bow sunbed to the exterior salon in the cockpit and straight into the interior salon, which connects seamlessly to create one expansive, convivial space for entertaining or unwinding. Below, the layout is as indulgent as it is practical: a full-beam master cabin, a spacious VIP, and a twin guest cabin, all ensuite, providing three ensuite cabins for six guests, complemented by a separate cabin for the captain or crew. Fully loaded with extras, she features two generators, a stern thruster, and a watermaker, while her tender — “PAX”, a Williams 3.25 Jet with 100 HP — rests in the spacious garage, ready at a moment’s notice. Turn key and poised to sprint at 40 knots, M/Y PAX is the perfect summer companion for a connoisseur, equally suited to spirited day cruises and long, carefree holidays at sea.
