These generators are expertly crafted to provide a consistent and dependable power source, elevating your experience on board. Whether you are anchored in a tranquil cove or navigating the vast ocean, the dual Kohler generators supply the essential power to meet all the yacht's electrical demands. Their inclusion ensures that every system, from critical navigation tools to opulent comforts, functions seamlessly and effectively, enabling you to relish your voyage without any disruptions.

Walk through and accommodations

The 65 Marquis distinguishes itself in its category, providing a more generous space than other yachts of similar dimensions. Designed by the esteemed Novulari and Lenard, this yacht features a ceiling height of 6 feet 8 inches, which, along with its large windows, bathes the main deck in natural light and fosters a seamless connection with the outside world. When privacy is needed, window shades and blinds are easily accessible to ensure comfort for both guests and owners.

Beginning at the aft deck, you can access the Marquis 65 through two entry gates on either the port or starboard side. Two stainless steel gates at the rear lead to the hydraulic swim platform, crew quarters, and engine room. Entering the main salon through the gracefully curved sliding door, you'll find newly installed wooden floors. The salon includes a cozy seating sofa, a newly replaced reclining armchair, and a TV cabinet with a pop-up TV. Moving forward, the galley is located on the port side, featuring a full-size double refrigerator, oven, dishwasher, sinks, granite countertops, and granite flooring. Next to the galley, custom cabinetry houses wine and beverage coolers along with ample storage space. The dining table is conveniently placed forward of the galley for easy serving.

On the lower deck, the accommodations continue to impress. Forward is the Queen size VIP stateroom with its own bathroom. To the starboard side, there is a twin cabin converted to include a queen bed, also with an en-suite bathroom, accessible as a day head via an external door from the hallway. As you move aft down the hallway, you enter the master stateroom through double doors. This opulent area includes a king-size bed, a walk-in closet to the port, and a full side-by-side laundry area. At the aft deck bulkhead of the master cabin, you'll find doors leading to the bathroom and another walk-in closet, a unique feature on the Marquis 65 that enhances the yacht's charm.
