OVERVIEW

Princess S65 (2027) by PRINCESS, model S65, LOA 66 ft.

Crafted in collaboration with Olesinski and Italian design house Pininfarina, this S65 harmonizes sleek, purposeful lines with athletic poise. An expansive sunroof floods the saloon and lower helm with natural light and fresh air, inviting open air cruising at a moment's notice.

A refined arrival is assured with an electro hydraulic teak bathing platform and a tender garage sized for a Williams 345. The cockpit's U shaped seating frames a folding teak dining table, complemented by an aft sunpad for effortless lounging.

Teak steps rise to a generous sportbridge with far reaching views; its table converts to a large sunbed, setting the stage for relaxed passage while the yacht's responsive handling and composed ride do the rest.

Inside, the main deck saloon is welcoming and well appointed, with a U shaped sofa, coffee table, and sideboard. Entertainment is anchored by a 55 inch UHD LED television and a marine audio system. The dining area provides L shaped seating with a folding table and cup holders, while a stainless steel sliding door opens seamlessly to the cockpit.

Forward, the foredeck elevates the journey with a U shaped dining zone and an additional sunbathing area featuring twin sunpads and practical lockers. Below, accommodation is arranged for eight guests across four cabins, plus a separate crew cabin.

Distinctive in style and assured in performance, the S65 offers generous spaces for entertaining and the capability to exceed 30 knots, its advanced hull delivering poised seakeeping and a notably comfortable ride.
