OVERVIEW

This Azimut 66 Fly, measuring approximately 20.8 m (68 ft), is a sumptuous, performance-oriented flybridge motor yacht that marries extensive carbon-fiber engineering with a versatile four-cabin layout and one of the most generous flybridges in its class. She is driven by twin 1,150 hp Caterpillar C18 engines with just 460 hours, comfortably topping 32 knots and settling into effortless cruises of 27–28 knots, imparting crisp acceleration, surefooted handling and refined comfort underway. Blending progressive Italian styling with unusually generous volume for her size, the 66 Fly appeals to families and discerning owner-operators in the 65–70 ft range, fusing the elan of a sport yacht with the creature comforts of a flybridge cruiser and the efficiency of a planing motor yacht.
