OVERVIEW

The 68-foot Sunreef Power catamaran EMMILIZA, arranged with five sumptuous staterooms, is an embodiment of calm confidence and long-range capability, conceived for extended bluewater passages while offering exceptional interior volume, inherent stability and uncompromising luxury. Crafted by the acclaimed Polish yard Sunreef Yachts, this multihull motor yacht marries expansive living areas with modern engineering and bespoke finishes, producing a vessel equally at home crossing oceans or entertaining in sheltered anchorages.

Inside, five guest suites are appointed with private en-suite bathrooms fitted with premium fixtures and walk-in showers, while flexible bedding arrangements—king, queen or twin—allow each cabin to be tailored to owner or charter requirements. Every accommodation benefits from independent climate control, generous storage and meticulously selected surfaces. The owner's suite occupies the starboard hull and delivers a full-beam feeling with a king bed, intimate lounge and a dedicated writing desk or vanity; an extensive wardrobe and a spa-inspired bathroom complement oversized hull windows that frame sweeping ocean vistas. A VIP stateroom aft in the port hull offers a queen bed, elegant en-suite and plentiful cabinetry, while three further guest cabins convert easily between double and twin configurations and provide impressive headroom and refined décor. Crew are housed discreetly in separate quarters with their own entry, accommodating 2–4 crew to preserve guest privacy and ensure smooth, professional service.

The main deck salon is conceived as an open-plan living environment, wrapped in glazing to flood the interior with daylight; it integrates a dining area, modular lounge seating and a premium entertainment system, with an optional interior helm station for sheltered navigation. The galley, positioned on the main deck in its fully equipped gourmet specification, features high-spec appliances, dedicated wine storage and ample provision space to support long-range cruising.

Outdoor living is distributed across generous exterior decks. The aft cockpit offers alfresco dining for 8–10, multiple lounge zones, expansive sunpads and wide swim platforms that make water access effortless. Above, the flybridge provides an expansive social deck with a helm, wet bar, grill and numerous lounging areas, including oversized sunbeds for daytime relaxation or sunset gatherings. Forward, a sunken lounge on the foredeck creates an intimate social space with sofas and sunpads, ideal for quiet mornings and starlit evenings.

Recent 2023–2024 enhancements include a full Awlgrip exterior repaint (2023) delivering a high-gloss finish across hulls and superstructure with improved UV protection and a contemporary aesthetic; the installation of a second watermaker to double freshwater production and add critical redundancy for offshore autonomy; and an additional freshwater pressure pump to ensure strong, consistent water pressure and reliable backup capacity in all conditions.

Underway, EMMILIZA offers outstanding range and fuel efficiency for genuine bluewater passages, complemented by advanced sound insulation and stabilizers that ensure serenity both on the move and at anchor. The vessel's systems are fully integrated, with navigation, communication and comprehensive vessel monitoring suites providing modern, reliable control.

With a broad multihull beam delivering expansive interior volume and natural stability, a shallow draft for exploring thin-water bays and secluded anchorages, and interiors designed to suit private ownership, luxury charter or hybrid use, the Sunreef 68 Power in this five-cabin layout combines excellent charter appeal and revenue potential with comparatively modest running costs.
