OVERVIEW

2016 69' motor yacht moored in Greece, conceived for sun-soaked horizons and refined cruising. At 69 feet overall and with a capacious 16-foot beam, she offers an expansive, stable platform that harmonizes generous interior volume with graceful lines. Her shallow 5.02-foot draft invites easy access to hidden coves and fashionable island harbors throughout the Aegean and Ionian seas, while a hull fashioned from sturdy composite with fiberglass decks provides the quiet, reassuring solidity and low-maintenance appeal expected of a premium GRP construction.

Underway she is driven by twin MAN inboard diesels, settling into a composed 22-knot cruise and able to accelerate to 30 knots when demanded, a combination that makes both long coastal legs and spirited passages equally rewarding. Long-range confidence is assured by a substantial 924.6-gallon fuel tank, and autonomy at anchor is supported by 215.3 gallons of fresh water—specifications that translate into relaxed, self-sufficient cruising and generous passage-making potential.

Interior spaces are bright and inviting, with an open salon that encourages conversation and uninterrupted views, finished with refined materials and precise joinery that convey a modern, timeless character. The layout is thoughtfully resolved so that lounging, dining and galley areas flow effortlessly, creating a social heart that is as well suited to intimate evenings as to lively gatherings. On deck, broad sunning areas and a sheltered aft cockpit provide a setting for alfresco dining, languid afternoons, and uncomplicated access to the water; the wide beam enhances the sense of space so that every get-together feels both comfortable and elevated.

Accommodation emphasizes privacy and convenience, with three well-appointed heads to serve family and guests and a dedicated crew cabin for two to afford discreet, professional service. Practical considerations are evident throughout—from secure side-deck access and robust deck fittings to intuitive systems management—making her equally appealing to owner-operators and to those who prefer the support of a professional crew. Whether island-hopping by day or attending chic marinas by night, this 2016 69' embodies the essence of a contemporary Mediterranean cruiser: elegant, capable, and welcoming. A true motor yacht and performance-minded cruiser in one, she pairs diesel inboard reliability and composite GRP construction with the versatility to move seamlessly from lively passages to tranquil anchorages, offering an attractive proposition for private enjoyment or boutique charter.
