OVERVIEW

2011 — 73' performance motor yacht lying in Greece, designed for the pleasures of Mediterranean passages yet built to perform. Her sleek planing hull and precision-engineered fiberglass composite construction combine to deliver both lightness and structural integrity, while an 18-foot beam grants stability and a striking silhouette on the water.

Twin MAN diesel inboard engines propel her to an exhilarating top speed of approximately 39.5 knots and a comfortable cruising pace near 32 knots, enabling swift island hops and surefooted handling in a variety of conditions. A shallow draft of about 5.3 feet makes it simple to slip into hidden coves and intimate marinas—exactly the kind of access sought in Greece.

The interior invites relaxed entertaining and refined downtime; the salon flows easily to exterior spaces for effortless socializing at anchor or underway. Accommodation for up to four guests is arranged with comfort in mind, supported by three well-appointed heads for privacy and convenience, and a dedicated crew cabin for two to guarantee professional, discreet service. Generous storage and an intuitive arrangement of spaces ensure every moment aboard—from a chic sunset aperitif to a slow breakfast after an early swim—feels natural and unhurried.

Self-sufficiency is balanced with range: an approximate 1,030-gallon fuel capacity supports ambitious itineraries, while roughly 185 gallons of fresh water extend stays between shore calls. The fiberglass deck is specified for durability and minimal upkeep, and the planing hull rewards the helmsman with quick acceleration and a composed, smooth ride. Ready for immediate enjoyment in Greece, this 2011 73' epitomizes swift, stylish Mediterranean yachting between fashionable ports and secluded bays.
