OVERVIEW

PRELIMINARY LISTING

Gliding with refined poise and sculpted precision, this 2019, 78-foot performance motor yacht marries exhilarating capability with understated elegance. Born from the Olesinski studio, her sleek planing monohull of fiberglass composite construction delivers a serene, controlled ride—effortless at a 26-knot cruising pace and thrilling up to 30 knots. Propelled by twin MAN diesel engines, she offers quiet, assured propulsion, while a generous 19-foot beam provides exceptional interior volume and sea-kind stability without diminishing the yacht's crisp, contemporary silhouette.

Inside, a thoughtfully appointed Princess Yachts interior transforms each hour aboard into a cultivated retreat. Sun-filled living areas unfold with meticulous attention to scale and materiality—hand-finished woodwork, sumptuous textiles, and carefully layered lighting combine to create a warm, refined ambiance. The main salon invites relaxed conversation and expansive sightlines, harmonizing with a tasteful dining space and a fully equipped galley designed for effortless entertaining.

Sleeping arrangements are composed to welcome six guests in tranquil comfort, supported by four beautifully finished heads that ensure privacy and convenience. A dedicated crew cabin for two offers discreet, professional service when desired—perfect for owner-operators eager to transition to a crewed program or for those seeking true turnkey leisure from the moment they step aboard.

On deck, the broad beam translates into ample social areas and thoughtful circulation—ideal for alfresco meals, evening cocktails, and leisurely days at anchor. Fiberglass decks are specified for durability and low maintenance, while balanced weight distribution and ergonomic design inspire confidence both in tight maneuvering and open-water passages. With a 1,320-gallon fuel capacity and 330 gallons of fresh water, this yacht is as capable as she is beautiful—equally suited to coastal weekend escapes or extended island-hopping cruises. Located in the United States and maintained to reflect her pedigree, she represents modern quiet luxury: timeless lines, exceptional craftsmanship, and performance that consistently feels a step ahead.
