OVERVIEW

Indulge in the refined allure of the Ferretti 880, an 88-foot yacht that marries graceful styling with formidable capability. Launched in 2006 and presently moored in the idyllic waters of Greece, this vessel presents a rare opportunity for buyers seeking a yacht that balances performance and sumptuous living. Her sleek semi-displacement hull, conceived by the Ferretti Engineering Department, allows the yacht to cut through swells with poise while delivering exhilarating speeds of up to 31 knots. Driven by robust MTU engines, she offers dependable power and a composed ride, whether skimming the coast or making longer passages across the Mediterranean.

Inside, the Ferretti 880 is a study in tasteful design and comfort, sleeping up to 10 guests across five elegantly appointed cabins. Each cabin provides a tranquil refuge after a day of exploration, supported by five well-appointed heads that ensure privacy and convenience for every guest. The yacht also accommodates a professional crew with two crew cabins providing four berths, enabling attentive service throughout your voyage.

Outside, expansive deck areas crafted from high-quality composite materials invite sunlit repose and alfresco dining beneath a canopy of stars. A broad 22-foot beam creates generous living and entertaining spaces, perfect for gathering with family and friends or hosting intimate soirées. Practical long-range capability is built in, with water storage exceeding 351 gallons and fuel capacity approaching 2,378 gallons, equipping the yacht for extended cruises among the enchanting Greek isles.

Available for sale in her current location, the Ferretti 880 is more than a boat; she is an invitation to create lasting memories on the open sea. Every detail has been thoughtfully curated to deliver an extraordinary yachting experience, and this distinguished vessel awaits a new owner to chart the next chapter of adventure in the Mediterranean.
