OVERVIEW

A masterful fusion of Italian refinement and athletic capability, this 2010-built, 92-foot luxury motor yacht is crafted expressly for spirited Mediterranean voyaging. Her sleek planing hull, fashioned from composite fiberglass/GRP, rewards the helmsman with immediate response and thrilling acceleration, confidently maintaining a cruising speed of 32 knots and unleashing up to 37 knots when driven by her twin MTU inboard diesel engines. With a generous 21-foot beam and a shallow draft of approximately 5'3", she balances a sense of generous scale with nimble handling—equally adept at slipping into fashionable island harbors or carving fast, level passages along the coastline. On deck, living is effortless and elegant. Expansive open-air lounges invite long afternoons in the sun and intimate golden-hour gatherings, while aft areas transition seamlessly from relaxed daytime lounging to alfresco dining beneath the stars. The GRP decks and composite construction underpin a hushed, assured ride at speed, allowing conversation to flow even as the horizon unfurls.

Below, a light-filled main salon greets guests with refined detailing and a contemporary, timeless atmosphere—a serene haven after a lively run. The interior layout is tailored for intimate cruising, accommodating up to five guests in beautifully appointed cabins and offering four well-sized heads to ensure privacy and convenience. Service is executed with discretion from a dedicated crew area that includes a cabin with three berths, enabling polished hospitality from morning till night.

Extended escapes become genuine adventures thanks to substantial tankage: approximately 2,325 gallons of fuel provide meaningful range, while roughly 370 gallons of freshwater support days spent away from marina services. Each nautical mile reinforces the allure of a performance yacht of this caliber—effortless bursts of speed, confident seakeeping, and the unmistakable exhilaration of fast planing at sea.

Currently lying in Italy and imbued with the region's understated glamour, this 92-footer represents a rare opportunity for buyers seeking a sports cruiser that marries performance with luxury yacht comforts. A measured balance of speed, style, and liveability, she stands as an elegant, modern Mediterranean cruiser—an ideal choice for those in the market for a luxury motor yacht, performance yacht, sports cruiser, planing hull vessel, GRP construction or a 90–100 ft class Mediterranean cruiser.
