OVERVIEW

New construction possibilities await you. The Mazu 92 Displacement Series (92DS) is an exquisitely customizable semi-displacement explorer yacht, crafted to provide remarkable versatility and personalization for the most discerning yacht enthusiasts. With a robust steel hull and a sleek aluminum superstructure, each 92DS is a unique masterpiece, meticulously designed to meet the specific preferences and requirements of its owner.

From the exterior color palette to the interior decor, amenities, and expansive deck areas, no two Mazu 92DS yachts are identical. This exceptional level of customization, paired with an appealing 12-month delivery timeframe, positions the 92DS as one of the most distinctive options available in her class.

The 92DS presents two primary layout choices: a 5-cabin arrangement featuring a private owner's deck or a 4-cabin design with the master stateroom situated forward on the main deck. Additionally, a layout tailored for North American clients incorporates a country kitchen on the main deck, fostering a more relaxed and social atmosphere for guests, along with crew accommodations for five, including the captain's quarters located in the pilot house.

Equipped with standard Volvo IPS 1050 engines, the 92DS achieves a top speed of 17 knots, a smooth cruising speed of 12 knots, and an impressive range exceeding 1,200 nautical miles. For those desiring enhanced performance, optional Volvo IPS 1350 engines are also available.

Detailed floor plans are provided to showcase the yacht's extensive customization possibilities, ensuring that each 92DS aligns perfectly with its owner's vision. For those in pursuit of a highly personalized, steel-hulled explorer yacht that excels in performance and range, the Mazu 92DS stands out as an exceptional choice in the current boat location.
