OVERVIEW

Launched in 2017 and presently berthed in Monaco, this striking 93 foot luxury motor yacht marries refined styling with practical seafaring ability. Her generous 23 foot beam creates an immediate sense of volume uncommon in this size range, allowing social areas to flow naturally from a luminous salon to expansive exterior lounges. Built in durable GRP composite, she offers the smooth, quiet ride and low maintenance durability prized for Mediterranean cruising.

Twin MTU inboard diesels provide assured performance, settling into an economical 15 knot cruise while retaining the ability to accelerate to 21 knots when required. With a fuel capacity of over 3,170 gallons and more than 528 gallons of freshwater, the yacht has the range and autonomy to explore the Riviera and farther afield. A draft just over 10 feet strikes a comfortable balance between coastal accessibility and confident offshore capability.

The interior is styled with a contemporary, restrained palette and premium finishes that complement sweeping sea views. Guest accommodation sleeps up to six in tranquil, private cabins supported by an unusually generous total of six well appointed bathrooms, each finished to a high standard. Crew quarters comfortably house four crew members across two dedicated cabins, ensuring discreet, professional service and efficient operation on every passage.

Outdoor life is central to the yacht's character. The aft deck is ideal for leisurely lunches and evening cocktails, while the broad foredeck provides a serene spot for sunning or morning coffee at anchor. An upper terrace style area offers elevated vistas and a convivial setting for relaxed entertaining, making the layout especially suited to alfresco dining or a peaceful weekend at sea. Circulation is effortless, encouraging conversation and connection with the water.

At the helm, a modern navigation suite and responsive controls inspire confidence, and the composite construction keeps noise and vibration to a minimum for a calm onboard environment. The overall impression is of a poised, capable cruiser that reads like a contemporary Mediterranean superyacht while remaining welcoming and eminently usable for family ownership.

A true luxury motor yacht with superyacht poise, this GRP composite Mediterranean cruiser is equally well suited to private ownership or boutique charter. From Monaco daytrips to long weekend escapes and coastal passages, she delivers the resort style, effortless experience discerning owners desire.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Anastasia V

The Azimut 95 RPH (Raised Pilot House) is a masterpiece of Italian superyacht design, the celebrated result of exterior designer Stefano Righini and interior architect Salvagni Architetti working in pure harmony; defined by generous volumes, an intelligent layout, and exhilarating performance, she invites you aboard an interior elevated to haute couture where contemporary lines are accented by sophisticated, high-end touches inspired by Christian Dior. Her Raised Pilot House creates a dedicated, professional helm station and liberates the main deck for an expansive, luxurious guest area, while forward on this level the on-deck master suite becomes a private sanctuary with sweeping panoramic views through large hull windows. Below, a five-cabin layout accommodates up to 10 guests in unparalleled comfort, with four additional guest cabins on the lower deck, and above the expansive flybridge offers an enormous outdoor stage for entertaining, dining, and relaxation often customized with a jacuzzi, a full wet bar, and vast sun pads. A hydraulic transom door reveals a tender garage that transforms into a spectacular waterside beach club, while zero speed stabilizers ensure ultimate comfort both underway and at anchor, and commercial compliance under the CYC brings big-boat capability with the polish of a true Italian superyacht. This is not a production yacht with standard upkeep: this magnificent 2017 Azimut 95 RPH stands apart thanks to the diligence and investment of its experienced yacht owner and has been maintained with an open checkbook philosophy—proactive, preventative, and uncompromising—so that every recommendation from the captain, chief engineer, or service agent has been approved and she operates in as near-to-new condition as possible. A top-tier professional crew cares for her year-round, ensuring that every system, from the powerful MTU engines to the intricate AV/IT network, performs flawlessly; immediate turn-key readiness means no deferred maintenance and no looming refit concerns, with a comprehensive, up-to-date service history available for inspection. Beyond routine care she has benefited from select, high-quality upgrades and enhancements that reflect a commitment to optimal performance and modern luxury, she is fully VAT paid. Seize this rare opportunity to acquire a pristine, late-model Azimut 95 RPH maintained to superyacht standards, a yacht that blends Azimut's iconic style and speed with the peace of mind that comes from meticulous, open checkbook maintenance.
