OVERVIEW

97' Mediterranean Motor Yacht by Zuccon — 2009, Greece

An elegant expression of Italian design sensibility, this 97-foot Motor Yacht, styled by the renowned Zuccon International Project, balances performance, comfort, and sophistication with effortless poise. Lying in Greece and crafted in hand-laid GRP composite, she presents a confident, full-beam stance of 23 feet and the kind of inviting, sunlit interiors that are made for long Mediterranean days and starlit evenings at anchor.

Twin MTU diesel inboards deliver spirited, reliable power, propelling her to an exhilarating 27 knots when the mood strikes, while her refined hull form and substantial draft—approximately 11.5 feet—contribute to a composed, surefooted ride across open water. With more than 3,100 gallons of fuel on board and nearly 800 gallons of freshwater, this Performance Motor Yacht is as ready for extended island-hopping as she is for a swift dash between harbors. Inside, Zuccon's signature approach shines through: clean lines, balanced proportions, and a soothing palette that elevates every moment aboard. Expansive salon glazing floods the main deck with natural light, drawing the eye to carefully curated finishes and generous lounging and dining areas that flow seamlessly for easy entertaining. The atmosphere is both contemporary and warm—equally suited to a formal dinner as to a relaxed family gathering. Thoughtful accommodations are complemented by five beautifully appointed heads, ensuring privacy and comfort for guests. A discreet crew area with three cabins supports a high level of service, preserving a calm, private environment from morning coffee to nightcap.

On deck, this Flybridge Yacht invites outdoor living. The expansive upper deck offers commanding views for navigation and abundant space for sunning and casual dining. The aft cockpit beckons for leisurely alfresco meals, while broad side decks guide you to a welcoming foredeck lounge—an ideal perch for sundowners with the Aegean as your backdrop. Every surface and detail has been considered for life at sea, from the reassuring traction of GRP decks to the easy maintenance of the composite structure.

The yacht's systems are designed for real world cruising—robust, practical, and refined—quiet at speed, efficient at passage pace, and thoroughly enjoyable at anchor. Whether hosting friends off Mykonos, exploring secluded coves in the Ionian, or making a statement upon arrival in port, she embodies the essence of a Luxury Yacht: confident, comfortable, and unmistakably stylish.

A rare opportunity in Greece for those seeking a Planing Hull Flybridge with Italian pedigree, twin MTU power, and the enduring appeal of GRP composite construction—this is a Mediterranean Cruiser of distinction, ready to begin her next chapter.
