OVERVIEW

Launched in 2019, the Baltic 112 Liara marries high-octane performance with quiet refinement, a bespoke sailing superyacht that balances exhilarating speed and long-range comfort. Built by Baltic Yachts from advanced carbon fiber composite, she ranks among the lightest bluewater cruising yachts in her class, a deliberate weight-saving pedigree that makes her equally at home on extended ocean passages and as a distinguished luxury yacht for serious voyaging.

Conceived by an experienced yachtsman and penned by Malcolm McKeon Yacht Design, Liara was imagined to traverse the globe with effortless authority while remaining a potent rival on the superyacht regatta circuit. Her design excellence was recognized at the 2020 Boat International Design & Innovation Awards, where she secured Best Sailing Yacht Interior and Outstanding Exterior Designed Sailing Yacht, testaments to her dual identity as a racer-cruiser and a performance sailing yacht.

Her interior layout accommodates 8 guests across 4 ensuite cabins: a forward owner's double suite, a midships VIP double and two twin cabins positioned aft of the saloon. To the stern, three dedicated crew cabins provide berths for 5, ensuring attentive service and the operational continuity expected of a premium sailing superyacht.

Detailed specification

Launched in 2019, the Baltic 112 "Liara" is a masterpiece of high performance luxury, perfectly blending speed with comfort. Built by Baltic Yachts using advanced carbon composite construction, she ranks among the lightest cruising yachts of her size and was conceived by an experienced yachtsman with lines by Malcolm McKeon Yacht Design to deliver world cruising comfort while remaining fiercely competitive at international superyacht regattas; her design excellence was acknowledged at the 2020 Boat International Design & Innovation Awards where she received top honours for interior and exterior design. Below deck, Liara sleeps eight guests in four luxuriously appointed ensuite cabins: the owner's forward double suite, a midships double VIP and two twin cabins aft of the saloon, while three dedicated crew cabins in the stern accommodate five crew in total, all wrapped in a serene interior by Adam Lay Studios where calm, high quality limed and stained oak joinery enriches unusually spacious accommodation. On deck, comfort and sociability take precedence in a large protected guest cockpit featuring deep cushioned lounging sofas, a sunpad and a generous U shaped dining area, and the concept's versatility is epitomised by a striking yet easily removable carbon hard top bimini that provides ultimate shelter for relaxed cruising and, once removed, leaves a clean, performance optimised deck for racing; for long passages a five point five metre Ribeye tender stows neatly on the foredeck or aft deck. True to Baltic Yachts' reputation for innovation, Liara is equipped with cutting edge performance solutions, most notably the Hundested Retractable Propulsion System (RPS) which fully retracts into the hull to eliminate drag while its pod rotates 170 degrees each way for exceptional close quarters manoeuvrability, and a powerful 190 kWh high voltage DC power pack that enables all onboard systems — including deck winches, air conditioning and galley utilities — to run in quiet ship mode for up to eight hours without the generator. A retracting telescopic keel (3.9 m > 6 m) dramatically improves access to shallow anchorages and remote cruising grounds, and when her six metre draft is combined with the powerful Southern Spars rig and a Norths square top mainsail her performance is nothing short of outstanding. Opportunities to acquire an all carbon composite Baltic Yacht of this pedigree are rare and rarer still is one so technologically advanced; maintained meticulously under her owner's programme, LIARA is completely turn key and ready to go, having never been chartered and only lightly raced, with full brochure and specification available on request.
