OVERVIEW

---

Crafted in aluminium by a leading New Zealand shipyard to a celebrated design, the 2004-built Tiara sailing superyacht has recently completed a €6 million refit, highlighted by freshly laid teak decks and a comprehensive mechanical renewal. Her timeless John Munford interior showcases flamed mahogany, refined marquetry and evocative Art Deco accents, welcoming up to 10 guests in five cabins. The dramatic split-level owner's suite offers a private lounge with study, a generous marble-clad bathroom, and a full-beam stateroom centred on a queen-size bed. A pair of aft double guest staterooms can combine to create a full-beam VIP, while two additional cabins flex between double or twin setups, each supplemented by a Pullman. Every guest cabin is equipped with an entertainment system, TV screens and complete en suite facilities, and six further crew cabins accommodate up to 10 professionals aboard this luxury sailing yacht. Tiara is a swift, potent superyacht crowned by a 62.5-metre mast—the tallest allowable for transiting the Panama Canal. Aft, cocktail tables transform into a dining arrangement for 12, and the space readily becomes an open-air dance floor with DJ capability. Alternatively, a Bedouin-style tent can be rigged to provide cooling shade in tropical anchorages or a magical cinema under the stars. Unusually for a sailing yacht, the aft deck is engineered to accept the owner's eight-seat executive helicopter. Under engine, a 1,400 hp Caterpillar diesel delivers a top speed of 15 knots and a range of 5,900 nautical miles at 11 knots for effortless bluewater cruising.
