OVERVIEW

The Lagoon 50, built in France to VPLP lines with exterior styling by Patrick le Quément and interior architecture by Nauta Design, debuted in 2018 as a bluewater cruiser and upscale charter multihull, equally suited to crewed charters or bareboat exploration. Its accommodation is graciously arranged with six main cabins yielding twelve berths, plus two forepeaks adding two more berths for a total of 14, while sanitary facilities comprise four electric heads together with one manual head in the crew cabin.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

General information

Equipped for independence and comfort, this yacht features a robust 13 kW generator that supports fully air-conditioned interiors and powers all onboard systems, complemented by a high-capacity watermaker for extended autonomy. Precision navigation is assured with an autopilot and GPS chartplotter, while sails from 2022 deliver crisp, reliable performance under way. At anchor, a Lewmar 2000 W windlass handles ground tackle with confidence. Shore transfers are effortless with a 3.40 m dinghy driven by a 4 hp outboard.
