OVERVIEW

2008 Bavaria 50 Vision | €179,000 | Porto Carras, Greece

Step aboard a vessel where considered lines and comfortable living converge: this Bavaria 50 Vision, launched in 2008, measures 15.43 m overall with a broad 4.49 m beam and a 2.10 m draft, offering a stable platform for long passages and generous interior volume. Her heart is a Volvo Penta D2-75 diesel paired to a saildrive, rated at 75 HP and showing approximately 3,470 hours, while capacious tanks — 400 L of fuel and two fresh-water tanks of 350 L each — support extended cruising autonomy. The accommodation is arranged as three cabins and two heads, laid out for liveaboard comfort and family-friendly voyaging.

Comfort and independence at anchor are provided by Webasto air-conditioning, an array of solar panels and an onboard generator, and recent renewals include sails, sprayhood and bimini, ensuring systems and canvas are ready for immediate use. The cockpit is trimmed in teak and the interior finishes are of a refined standard, reflecting careful ownership: privately held and lightly used, roughly 20–25 days per season, she presents in excellent condition.

Berthed in picturesque Porto Carras, Greece, this deck-saloon cruiser invites effortless exploration of the Aegean and confident bluewater passages. Price: €179,000. Arrange a viewing to appreciate the balance of space, performance and comfort in person.
