OVERVIEW

Launched and commissioned in 2016, Aurous is MCA Category 2 commercially coded and represents a high specification exemplar of the Prévost & Nauta-designed Lagoon 52 Flybridge, distinguished by its diamond angled vertical bows, crisp contemporary hull lines and a floating hardtop over the flybridge that together give her a striking, modern profile. She is emphatically not an ex bareboat charter fleet vessel; instead Aurous has been operated by a boutique company dedicated to delivering refined luxury yacht experiences, maintained without compromise and professionally managed by a permanent two person crew. Presented in immaculate, ready for immediate use condition in Corfu, she offers an exceptional platform for bluewater passagemaking or premium crewed charter — in our view the finest Lagoon 52 currently on the market — and is available to view from 1/10/26, so we recommend inspecting her before spending time on younger, heavily worked catamarans recently returned from bareboat programs.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION

Aurous Lagoon 52 F

Delivered and commissioned in 2016, Aurous is a commercially coded (MCA Cat 2), professionally maintained and operated, high specification example of the much admired Prevost & Nauta designed Lagoon 52 Flybridge. Her signature diamond shaped vertical bows, contemporary hull lines and raised hardtop with an integrated flybridge give her a striking and refined presence on the water.

The deck layout is exceptionally generous, offering a variety of comfortable lounging zones: plush cushions on the foredeck, a dedicated sunbathing expanse up on the flybridge and an inviting dining area with an aft sofa in the cockpit, all providing abundant space for family and guests to relax. Boarding and disembarkation are made effortless by open aft transoms, while wide side decks with recessed deck hatches ensure secure passage when underway. The cockpit is level with the saloon and is arranged to include an outdoor lounge and a sun lounging area to starboard. Access to the flybridge is convenient via the staircase rising from the cockpit or by the alternative stair from the starboard side deck.

All lines and deck controls are centralized on the flybridge, keeping the living areas clear and enhancing both comfort and sail handling. Aurous is equipped with the expected modern conveniences, including a generator, air conditioning, a water maker, televisions, a DVD player and a Bluetooth stereo in the saloon.

Inside, the galley is positioned opposite the sofa and interior dining area to promote an easy, sociable atmosphere. Accommodation is arranged for up to ten guests across five cabins: a spacious owner's cabin, a double in the starboard hull and, in the port hull, a bunk and two double cabins, each with its own ensuite; crew berths and a head are located in the forepeak. Natural light floods the cabins through fixed hull windows, while excellent ventilation is provided by deck hatches and portholes that open to the hull side or the cockpit.

The Lagoon 52 marks a notable evolution for the builder, combining a keener focus on performance and ease of handling with an impactful, contemporary aesthetic that remains true to the shipyard's design language. Onboard Aureus it is easy to picture elegant island cruising, enjoying calm anchorages and charming coastal villages in privacy and comfort even during the busiest months.
