OVERVIEW

CURRENT PRICE is an indicator. All reasonable offers welcomed.

The 2013 Beneteau Oceanis 55 presents a refined approach to lifestyle voyaging, marrying the assured manners of an offshore performer with the airy conviviality of a Mediterranean sanctuary. The Berret-Racoupeau hard chine and twin rudders yield a controlled, predictable heel and an impressively level motion when pressed, while the generous beam produces a cockpit area whose footprint competes with many catamarans. Within, Nauta Design's modular layout and near-vertical topsides pour daylight into the salon and owner's suite, delivering interior volume and finishing that recall semi-custom yachts well beyond its category. A 55-foot performance cruiser at heart, she remains a compelling choice for 2025 sailors who want a luxury sailing yacht capable of elegant entertaining and confident ocean crossings, a rare offering for those focused on bluewater capability, contemporary comfort, and crisp racer-cruiser handling.

This Oceanis 55 suffered a substantial grounding on the Charleston Harbor jetties, sustaining multiple breaches below the waterline that allowed water ingress and resulted in partial flooding. The hull came to rest on the jetty and did not fully submerge, and evidence indicates the vessel stayed largely dry above the waterline. Topsides, decks, and rig appear intact. For a capable restorer or a project-minded buyer, this represents an exceptional value.

Recent upgrades include davits, electric furlers, and powered winches.

A trailer is not included with this sale. Trailers may be sourced separately in St George, SC.
